Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Statue of Stephen Girard: Records of Its Erection and Unveiling, City Hall Plaza, Philadelphia, May 20, 1897 Through the beneficence of one man the world has been the annual recipient for forty-five years past of a body of young men well equipped, mentally and physically, to take a leading part in her labors, so that at the present time there are four thousand men in the various walks of life who have been benefited and in turn are benefiting her through the medium of the training acquired under the legacy of Stephen Girard. Scattered as they are, an estimate of their value to mankind would be mere conjecture, but a comparison of the array of representatives of legislative bodies, of the bar, the pulpit, the commercial house, the college faculty, and the skilled workshop, with the mass of penniless children from which they have been developed, gives absolute proof of the vast good resulting to humanity from the upward struggle of these four thousand, and, incidentally, from the endowment of their great benefactor.
